Course Materials

No mandatory textbook is required for this course. Instead, students will choose a topic of their interest, conduct research, create a demonstration, and present their findings to the class.

Deliverables

This course offers students the opportunity to explore and utilize new technologies, showcasing their work in a classroom environment. The focus of each project—whether it addresses a specific problem or demonstrates a concept—will be determined by the individual or group.

In this course, 'new technologies' are defined as topics like 'cloud computing' or programming languages such as 'Python.' These can be entirely new to you or an extension of your current knowledge. Collaboration is key, as students are required to work in groups of 2 or 3 for at least two projects. The remaining two projects can be completed either individually or with a group.

Assignments

The primary deliverable consists of four in-class presentations based on your own research.

Leading up to each presentation will be a topic paper and 2 status reports.

Evaluation Procedures and Grading

Criteria

Four topic papers and eight status reports make up 40% of your grade.

60% of your grade will be attributed to 4 presentations.

Breakdown

Grading Scale:

A = 89.5 - 100%	B = 79.5 - 89.49%	C = 69.5 - 79.49%	D = 59.5 - 69.49%	F = 59% and Below

AI & Technology Assistance Policy

This class will have restricted use of software, apps, or other technology tools providing computer-assisted or artificial intelligence. Assignments allowing these tools will be clearly noted.

Do not use technology tools without instructor authorization.

This includes text generators, enhanced proofing tools, image creators, and math or science solution tools. Do not use a technology tool until you are certain your instructor approves. Keep copies of your prewriting, drafts, notes, and prototypes so you have a record of your original work.

Violations of the technology use policy will be considered cheating.

I will allow use of an AI tool for one and only one project in this class. The use of an AI tool is not required.

Institutional Policies

Course Subject to Change

The syllabus is a statement of intent and schedule of topics, activities, assessments, and requirements as well as an overall road map to ensure students will achieve both the course learning objectives and the program-level learning objectives.

The scheduled educational activities are subject to change with reasonable advance notice to students by either the instructor or academic administration. The grading and attendance policies are not subject to change once posted.

During campus closures, the dynamic nature of our learning environment supports the possibility of remote learning days. In such instances, instructors will demonstrate flexibility, providing necessary support to ensure students can actively engage in coursework while accommodating individual circumstances. Clear communication and understanding will be prioritized to maintain the quality of education.

Students wishing to appeal changes to a course syllabus must first do so in writing to their instructor. If a successful resolution is not achieved after submitting the written appeal, the student has the option to file a written appeal to the appropriate Associate Dean of Curriculum and Instruction or Dean of Curriculum and Instruction. If the second level appeal does not result in a resolution, the student can submit a final appeal to the Vice President of Academic Affairs. The review and final decision of the Vice President of Academic Affairs is final and not subject to appeal.

Attendance

Administrative Withdraw for Non-Attendance

Students are expected to attend all sessions of courses for which they are enrolled. Absences do not excuse the student from meeting course requirements. Each instructor will evaluate the student's progress to determine how to handle outstanding assignments and assessments. Students attending 16 week courses who have a record of zero attendance for fourteen (14) calendar days will be administratively withdrawn from the course(s) the absence is occurring, resulting in a grade of "W" for the course. Students attending courses of less than a 16 week duration, who have a record of zero attendance for seven (7) calendar days will be administratively withdrawn. Students who receive financial aid may have their financial aid status affected. More information is located in the Southeast Tech Catalog (<https://catalog.southeasttech.edu/index.php>):

Course Recording Statement

Delivery of some courses at STC allows flexible participation options for students in time and location. Courses may be made available to properly enrolled students who are not physically in the classroom, and/or a time delayed recording made available to all properly enrolled students. In addition to instructional content, remote delivery may include capture of all classroom audio and visual happenings during designated class times, including that of students who may be part of the class, but who are not physically in the classroom. By remaining in classes capturing audio and visual happenings, you are agreeing to this statement.

Sexual Misconduct

Southeast Tech is committed to providing a learning and working environment that emphasizes the dignity and worth of every member of its community, free from discriminatory conduct. Sexual harassment in any form or context is contrary to this commitment and will not be tolerated. Southeast Tech recognizes that sexual harassment includes harassment based on gender, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression and may occur regardless of the formal position or status of each person involved. Sexual harassment is especially offensive, however, when it occurs in relationship between an instructor and student or between supervisor and subordinate. In those situations, sexual harassment exploits unfairly the power inherent in the position of the faculty member or supervisor.

Sexual harassment also constitutes a form of sexual discrimination that is illegal under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Elementary/Secondary Education Act of 1972, as amended, and state law. Southeast Tech also recognizes that sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking may also be considered sexual harassment.
